Maryssa and Potty Training

Here is Maryssa's progress with potty training - nothing. She doesn't quite get it yet and has no interest in the potty chair. I have to get her potty trained before preschool starts in September so I will be working diligently this summer getting her potty trained.

On a happy note though, she only goes through 2-3 diapers in a 24 hours period. I am thinking I will start working with her this week and get her up and running.

Maryssa is going to be my baby longer which is ok for me!! I know she won't go to college in diapers so this will all come in the right time for Maryssa. We love you our adorable and precious Maryssa!!

I haven't had to purchase any diapers in almost 3 weeks. I only go through 1-1/2 packages of pull ups a month for Miranda and Amanda. So my diaper bill is FINALLY going down!! Woo hoo!!
