Categories: Mom's Corner

New Years Eve

Thank goodness Cliff has the project completed and he can relax at home. He is doing a little work from the house today. We are going to order in for Lascari's - YUM! I am so happy to say goodbye to 2009!! It has been a financially challenging year for us and for so many other people too. I hope 2010 bring more good things for all of us.

I laid down with the girls and fell asleep with them tonight. I woke up at 11:55pm and Cliff and I rang in the New Year together.

Date: 31-12-2009