A fun visit with family at the beach

My cousin, Kristin, came over with her boys, Brendan and Dylan. We played on the beach and then came back to the house for lunch. We got some great pictures and had a lot of fun. Kristen had to hurry up because they were catching a boat to Catalina at 1:00pm.

Yesterday we picked up Cliff from the airport. He was a bit grumpy because I forgot to pack him some clothes for the beach. It was a little cold on the beach this weekend. Oh well... He is a home body and would much rather be home. BORING...LOL!
