Amanda said, "look mommy, there is a light on the floor!!"

Our house faces east so we get the morning sun streaming through the glass on our entry door. The glass reflected the sun onto the foyer floor. Amanda was just amazed that the sun's light was on the floor!! She would take her foot and step on the light. She said mommy, there is big and little pieces of light on the floor. What an inquisitive and smart little cookie she is!!
