And the award goes to...

A couple of weeks ago I received a note from the school for us to attend Savannah's school, El Portal's, award ceremony.

So I dropped Daddy Cliff and Savannah off at school at 8:15am (she is an early bird all week...ugh!) and then I dropped the triplets at early morning day care at 8:30am (they normally begin at 9am but they offer early morning care beforehand for $2.50 per child per half hour - very convenient - YIPEE!!)..

The award ceremony started at 8:45am. Cliff and I settled in our seats. They began presenting the awards. The VIP Student of the Year award for Miss Tarbell Kindergarten class was awarded to Savannah!! What a huge and proud moment to hear our little daughter got that award. We took hundreds of pictures. She also got the CARE award too.

I am so proud of you Savannah!! You have done exceptionally well in Kindy and you have made us so proud of you!! We love you!! xoxoxo
