Birthdays and flowers

This afternoon I took Savannah to her friend, Brooklyn's 6th birthday. It was a really fun carnival theme.

Then, Savannah and I met Cliff and the triplets at Home Depot. The girls picked out flowers to plant in our front yard garden for tomorrow which is my Mother's Day present. Savannah picked out some pretty pink trumpet flowers. Amanda picked out pretty little red flowers, Maryssa picked out pretty white lace flowers, and Miranda picket out pretty little pink flowers.

I drove the triplets home and Cliff took Savvy on an errand.

After we got home, Cliff and Savvy showed up a while later with a HUGE flower arrangement and a really nice Mother's Day card. What a nice suprise!!
