Boston Children's Museum

Today we went to the Boston Children's Museum. We picked up Cheryl and headed to the Wellington Station. We took the train into Downtown Boston and headed to the Boston Children's Museum.

It is an impressive 3 story monster of a building packed with fun and educational things for kids. There was a 3 story maze with all sorts of crazy steps and it was challenging for the kids to get from the top to the bottom or vice versa. Savannah got a little lost and panicked. Amazingly, Amanda came to save Savannah!! LOL!

We spent a lot of time in the bubble room. Bubble mania everywhere!

So many amazing and cool things for the kids to do. We had lunch and then went for more.

We spent the whole day there and closed the place down.

Of course we stopped off at the gift shop and each girls picked out a toy.

Then we headed back to the train and took the train back to our minivan. I drove Cheryl back home in Malvern.

Then I met up with Melissa and her girls at Chuck E Cheese in Burlington. When we got there and met up with Melissa, Melissa had a surprise for us! She had arranged for my friend, Tracey, and her 2 daughter to be there! So we got to spend time with Tracey and her daughter, Annabel, who is the same age as Savannah, and Charlotte, who is the same age as the triplets. We ate pizza and dinner together and then had fun watching the kids play together. I got some great group pictures as well as some mommy pictures of us too. What a wonderful surprise!! It was a lot of fun.

On the drive back, there was thunder and lightening. It was so cool!! We got back to Woburn Marriott at about 10pm.
