Bowling and it's all about the eyes

Today we met up with Vanessa and her daughters, Tiffany and Stacey for bowling at Whittier Bowl. My friend Victoria joined us a little late in our bowling game and she brought her daughters, Sophia and Juliana.

Stacey is an excellent bowler! Both Stacey and Tiffany had fun helping my girls bowling and I took a bunch of pictures. It was so much fun!

Then we went to Red Robin and had a nice lunch.

Then at 1:30 we headed to Dr. Fierson, the eye opthamologist, to do a follow up for Amanda and Miranda. Their appt went well. Amanda's lazy eye is improving and she doesn't need to wear glasses anymore. Miranda's lazy eye and crossed eye is getting better so we continue patching 2 hours a day and she wears glasses. We got back in a few months for another follow up appt.
