Feeding the Horses and 1st Dental Visit

This morning I took the girls to the V&H Stables to feed horses. Some of my friends from my La Habra Moms Club joined us. I stopped by and picked up a 25lb of carrots to feed the horses.

This afternoon was a huge milestone for the triplets. Today is their first dental visit. Wendy was great with the girls. All of the girls cooperated allowing Wendy to clean their teeth and even do X Rays!! Each girl got to pick out a toy for being so good. Savannah also had her dental check up and cleaning too. I am proud to say all of my girls have NO cavities. All of the timeless efforts in brushing their teeth is paying off.
