

Categories: Family Activities

Fullerton Arboretum

We set out to go to the L.A. County Fair today. They had a good deal, $1 per adult if you arrived 10am-1pm. We were on the road at 11:30am and still stuck in traffic at 12:30pm with no end in sight when we would finally get to the fair.

So we ditched the scene and decided to go to a park. We ventured over to the Fullerton Arboretum.

What a beautiful place. It is an amazing botanical garden with lots of water features, bridges, and water falls. The girls loved looking at the fishies in the stream and made friends with the ducks and turtles at the pond.

There were so many different areas of botanicals - woods and forest, fruit trees, flowering trees, vegetable gardens...so much to look and see!

This was a fun way to spend the afternoon. It is free but they do accept donations so we were happy to give them a $3 donation to support such a beautiful place in our community.

What a beautiful day it was today!!

Date: 07-09-2009