God's word!

Last Monday I signed the girls up for Vacation Bible Study (VBS) this week. today was their first day. They go from 9am-12:30pm. We meet at the sanctuary and I help them into their perspective classrooms. As we were walking down the sanctuary the girls said, We are going to learn God's word!! The pastor said Amen and everyone clapped. It was such a total rush and I was the proudest momma!

The girls loved their class today. They will go all this week through Friday.
