It has been 10 years...

Today is our 10th annual Arabic Dinner Family Reunion. I was up late last night and got up at 6am this morning to get a good head start. Everyone would start showing up at 3pm.

Our friend, Nadia, has triplets that are turning 2 and today is their birthday party at La Habra Heights Park. So at 9:00am I began getting the girls ready for the birthday party. Cliff left at 10am to take the girls to the party.

This gave me an advantage to get a lot of work done. My brother, Rob, helped me so much (thank you my dear brother!).

The girls came home at 12pm noon. They played their video games and I continued to prepare the food and the house for the party. I took a quick shower.

Everything was ready and my family began coming over at 3pm. We had lots of good food, wine and most importantly the grandest time catching up with each other. We took a lovely family group photograph.

What a wonderful evening!!
