It is a Scooter's Day for the Triplets

Today was the triplets 3 year old birthday party at a really fun place called Scooter's Jungle. It is an indoor child's fantasy place and has a 2-story bouncy slide, a 100 foot bouncy activity center and another bounce house. There were tons of different activities for the kids to play and do.

The party began at 2pm. About 20 adults and 22 kids were there. At 3:45 we all went into the party room. Each child had their own lunch sack filled with munchie goodies. Then we sang happy birthday, the girls blew out their candles and everyone ate cupcakes, cake and ice cream.

The party ended at 4:45pm. Each child received a special plush Scooter monkey with balloon as a party gift favor.

There was a ton of presents for the triplets.

When we got home, I gave the girls dinner. Then our neighbor Sid came over and the girls opened all of their presents. They had so much fun. Lots of cute and fun stuff. Then we all had more cake and dessert.

Happy 3rd Birthday to my sweet girls - Amanda, Miranda, and Maryssa.
