Just the girls...

On Monday July 6th my friends headed out back home to Boston. Cliff's sister, Teresa and her dad came over for a visit. It was a short visit.

Cliff offered something that all wives dream of. He offered to babysit the girls so Teresa and I could go out for a pedicure and spend some time together. I called Teresa and she came over in a flash. Before I knew it we were on the road, just us 2 girls, laughing like 2 crazy women getting out of the psyche ward.

We drove to the Rutland Mall and walked around. We relaxed in a salon and had our pedicures done. Then we ventured to KMart to get a birthday present for a neighbor whose daughter who was turning 1 year old.

Then we had lunch and some super delicious alcoholic beverages...Mud Slides. YUM!! I think that was my favorite part...drinking...LOL!!

It was so nice to have some sister girl time with my sister-in-law. We vowed that we are going to make this an annual tradition. I love you Teresa!!
