Let's Talk Halloween Costumes

I received some awesome coupons from Party City and it prompted me to go online and check out their costumes. I went to their store today. Boy did they have tons of costumes to choose from. I wound up purchasing some "kits" and I am going to be making their costumes and adding the kits. I had some awesome coupons and wound up saving $30 on the costume kits.

My girls are big time into bugs these days...lady bugs, bees, butterflies, centipedes, worms, ants, etc. They originally all asked to be monkeys and then they changed their minds and asked if they could be bugs for Halloween.

This is what they will be:

Savannah will be the Queen Bee

Amanda will be the Butterfly

Miranda will be the Bumble Bee

Maryssa will be the Lady Bug

The outfits will have leotards, tutus, tights, wings, antennas, boa fur on the cuffs and neckline and a puffy ball on their dressy shoes. I will be doing some sewing and using my creativity to make their costumes. I priced the pre-made costumes and they are outrageously priced. So I am going to hand make mine and I think mine are going to be even cuter and 100% better quality.

The girls saw their costume kits today which consist of the wings and the antennas. They loved them and are so excited.

So I am stating to cut the 50% off coupons from Joann's Fabrics and that will be a huge savings for me to do the costumes. I can't wait to get started!!
