Livin' Large!!

Savannah has needed a new bed for a while now. I have been selling my old baby stuff and saving money to get her a new bed for her birthday. I went on Craigslist.com and found a really great full sized captain's bed with roll out twin sized trundle underneath and 3 drawers under the trundle too!! The company I bought it from is called Livin' Large.

I ordered it on Tuesday and it arrived today and was put together. I also got a beautiful new couch set. We have been needing a new couch set for a few years now. The other one was in such bad shape. I got a really good deal and LOVE our new leather reclining sofa, love seat and recliner. It is so comfortable and it looks so nice.
