Miranda got her 1st bee sting!!

Yesterday Miranda was playing in the pool in the backyard. A bee flew right on her finger and stung her. That MEAN bee!! She screamed so loud I thought her tonsils were going to spill out. She was in so much pain. Cliff and I both had to work on getting the stinger out. That stinger was in her finger pretty good.

She scored a really cute Curious George band-aid out of the deal though. All is well now in Miranda Land.

My poor baby girl....
