Pizza and fun

Yesterday I took the girls to Carino's Italian restaurant in Whittier. I had coordinated with the manager for the La Habra Mom's Club kids to make pizzas, get a tour of the kitchen, meet the chefs and watch their pizza cook in a traditional brick pizza oven.

We had a separate room set up for us. When we walked in, the tables had every pizza topping imaginable. We had about 10 moms and about 20 kids.

The kids went to work on decorating their pizzas. They had some really neat designs going on!! Then they walked their pizzas over the 2 chefs and watch their pizzas be put on a wooden board and slid into the brick pizza oven. They watched as their pizza cooked. While the pizzas were cooking, the manager gave us a tour of the kitchen, prep area and the cook area. It was amazing.

The kids sat down and ate their pizzas and were given any beverage of their choice in cute souvenir cups.

The moms ordered lunch and we had a great time too.

What a great day it was!!
