Categories: Mom's Corner

Savannah lost her 3rd tooth today!

Savannah has had a loose bottom tooth for the past few weeks. She has 2 new bottom teeth coming in and it has been pressing on the lower tooth causing it to get loose. It has also caused Savannah a lot of pain and aggravation.

So today she showed me the loose tooth. I asked her if she wanted me to loosen it for her and help her pull it out. She said no that she wanted her daddy to do it since he has done the other 2 for her. She realized daddy wasn't here, so she went to the bathroom and started working on that tooth loosening it and then she pulled her own tooth out!! W>O>W !!!!!

She asked if the tooth fairy will come by for a visit and leave her some cold hard cash. I said of course.

I am so proud of my baby girl. She is all gums now!! LOL.

Date: 18-08-2009