Savannah's costume parade

Today was Savannah's costume parade at school. She was so excited to wear her costume to school. The school parade started at 10:30am, just 20 minutes after I dropped her off to school.

I didn't have time to dress up the triplets so I dressed them up in the car the 20 minutes before the costume parade started.

The Farina's parked beside us. They were there to see their 2nd grade twins in the costume parade, they were Fairy and the Frog characters.

I think the triplets got more attention than the costume parade did. No one at our school have seen triplets before so it was fun!! Thankfully everyone moved their attention to their kids in their costumes. Savannah's Kindy class was the first class in the parade. All of us waived and said Hi to Savannah. She had so much fun. I took lots of pictures of the parade and of Savannah with her classmates. I also took pictures of my girls with the Farina girls in their costumes.

It was a lot of fun!!
