

Categories: Amanda

Taco Day at El Cholo in La Habra

I arranged to have the kiddos and moms of the La Habra Moms club to enjoy a tour of the restaurant, kitchen and make their own tacos.

The manager John, was very accomodating!! He explained the history of the restaurant. It was originally a house and part of the restaurant was actually party of the house and he pointed certain characteristics to prove it. I was so impressed when we toured their kitchen!! Hands down, their kitchen is the CLEANEST kitchen I have ever seen at any restaurant, and I will tell you, this past year we have done at least 6 restaurant tours of their kitchens. You could eat off of their kitchen floor!!

The kids made their tacos in the kitchen and then we were all guided to our party room on the patio. It looked so festive!! There were balloons tied with cute yellow duckies all over the place!! The kids were given cute sippy cups with their choice of beverage. The moms ordered off of the menu. I had a coupon which was great!!

The kids got ice cream for dessert. The final surprise was each kid got to pick out a prize from the restaurant's special toy chest!!

We all had a wonderful time.

Date: 10-03-2010