Teddy got a hair cut

Our dog Teddy has been due for a hair cut for quite some time. I took him on Friday. I bathed him a couple of days ago and I just couldn't get the mats out of his long hair. He has the most beautiful hair - his is a Shitzu.

So I took him to our groomers today. They told me that he would have to be trimmed a little short due to the mats.

Well, his hair cut was more like a buz job - sheesh!!

In the evening I pick him up at about 7pm. I had the girls with me and they told the groomer that is not our dog Teddy!! Where is Teddy!! They didn't recognize Teddy with his new awful haircut. Our sweet furry dog now looks like a Chihuahua!! Ick!! Or maybe more like a rat. He looks so tiny and shrimpy. Teddy's hair was his personality I guess, made him look so cute. Now he looks so pathetic.

He has been itching up a storm and seems really unhappy with the short haircut.

I want my old dog back. I guess he will come back when the fur grows back in (((sigh)))
