We went to the library for the first time today

There is a library right next to the YMCA. The Whittier Libarary. So I took the girls for their very first time to visit a public library. I had to go over with them about being very quiet and using their "inside" voices.

They were amazed at all of the books in the kids section! We went to the Easy reading area for Savannah. She chose a really cute book about animals and I will have her read it to me. She is becoming quite the little reader.

They also rent out DVD movies for $1. We picked out Bambi II and we are going to watch it tonight. Miranda didn't want to let go of the DVD and she said it was hers. She fell in love with the movie.

We will go to the library every Tuesday and Thursday to check out books and once a week we will check out a DVD. I am going t look into the summer reading program for Savannah.
