They ate Mickey Mouse today!

Today was our turn to bring snacks into the preschool class. I have 3 snack days in a row for the triplets. Also with the snack day, the child gets to bring in a share toy and be line leader. Today was Miranda's share day. She brought in Minnie Mouse of course.

This morning I woke up at 6am to make the Mickey Mouse pancakes which would be for the snack today. I made a dozen of them. I also brought in whipping cream, raisins, and maple syrup so the kids could decorate their Mickey Mouse pancakes. They had a blast!!

I love being creative for the kids' snacks.
