Triplets Preschool End of year party

Today was the triplets preschool end of year party. I brought cute little treat boxes filled with the what me and the girls made yesterday -cupcakes and cookie sandwich as well as a souvenir cup with a crazy straw.

I wasn't able to go to the party because I was at Savannah's award ceremony. When I picked the triplets up at 12pm noon, they were so excited about their party and showed me all of the fun goodies they got. I received huge bags of all of the crafts as well as the Father's Day craft project that they made for Daddy.
