Update on Amanda's appointments

Amanda saw her Orthopedic Surgeon, Dr. Wright, at Children's Hospital Los Angeles twice in November. Both appointments the doctor said she is very impressed with Amanda's recovery and she has exceeded expectations on how well Amanda is beginning to use her new thumb.

Amanda has some stiffness in her thumb and the dr. said this is to be expected and in time as she begins to use it, the thumb will bend and be less stiff. She said it can take up to one or two years for her thumb to be functional.

Amanda's thumb looks amazing and Cliff and I are so happy we made the decision for Amanda to have this surgery.
